Dear Mr. Goodwin,

As co-chairpersons of St. Jude Catholic Church's Heart of the Parish Capital Campaign, we wish to commend the professionalism, perseverance and positive demeanor of Mr. Charles Recznik.

From our first phone call, Charles was very clear in letting us know what was expected of us as co-chairs. He continued giving us clear direction as the campaign continued and we always felt very prepared for our pulpit talks and speeches at the campaign receptions. He gave us a comprehensive outline but then allowed us to tweak it as we saw fit. He encouraged us and commended us to keep us motivated. Charles' communication and organizational skills are excellent and he was always five steps ahead of us. He is very dedicated to his work and it shows. We knew the campaign was always in God's hands but we never felt overwhelmed by the responsibility because we knew Charles had everything in control. He kept Father Henehan and the entire parish well informed as to the progress and encouraged everyone to keep moving toward the goal.

Charles was always very enthusiastic and upbeat and was invested in our project as if it was his own parish. He always made time for our questions and requests. He was a fixture at daily mass and his living faith only added to his credibility. He was very outwardly appreciative of our many volunteers and committee members.

We could only have achieved a portion of what we as a parish raised to build a beautiful new church if it weren't for Charles and Guidance in Giving. The experience, organization and systematic and thorough way of fundraising was vital to our success. We are very thankful for Charles and Guidance in Giving in helping St. Jude Parish to exceed its goal to date by one million dollars and reaching many souls for Christ.

In Christ,

Brian and Karen Flaherty
